In Tokyo Global Gateway Green Springs, junior high school students can learn to communicate in English according to real-life situations.

The facility uses projection mapping to recreate scenes such as a hotel, a hospital and a supermarket and has rooms modelled after places such as the interior of an airplane and a restaurant.

TGG has an Attractive Area, where students use English and an Active Immersion Area, where they learn in English.

The Attraction Area contains sections that recreate a pharmacy, fast food restaurant, souvenir shop and other stores.

In the Immersion Area, students work in groups to plan, discuss and make presentations.

Students tried their best and enjoyed learning practical English.

On the way to TGG and on the way back to Akishima, students could behave well in the train. They had a good time !!
